

What Jobfox Candidates are Saying:

"I've got to say I have never seen a job search engine like Jobfox! The ability for an employer to 'check under the hood' before they buy is just one of the benefits of a search engine like this. It was a great experience for me to fill all the different fields out because it made me think and clarify my market target and what I really want. So putting what the employer wants together with what I want is a match made in heaven."
